CHAPTER 1

FROM TRUTHS TO DECISIONS

SS-001 established what stewardship is. SS-002 established who you are to the One who entrusted it to you. This module is deliberately different from both. It does not explain another truth — it gives you a tool to use the truths you already have.

This is a Framework, not a Guide. You will not read a narrative here so much as work through a set of questions — the same way FS's evaluation frameworks and HW-001's self-assessment function elsewhere in the Knowledge System. Wisdom, biblically, is not primarily information to know. It's discernment to apply.

CHAPTER 2

WHAT WISDOM ACTUALLY IS

Wisdom is supreme, so acquire wisdom; and whatever you acquire, acquire understanding.

Proverbs 4:7

Wisdom is not the same as knowledge. Knowledge is knowing what's true. Wisdom is knowing what to do with what's true — in this specific situation, with these specific circumstances, right now.

IN PLAIN LANGUAGE

*You can know everything SS-001 and SS-002 taught and still make an unwise decision in the moment.
Wisdom is the bridge between knowing and doing well.*

CHAPTER 3

THE KINGDOM WISDOM FRAMEWORK

Before any significant decision, work through these five questions in order. Each one builds on a truth already established elsewhere in this library.

1. Whose is this, really?

Return to SS-001. Are you deciding as an owner protecting what's yours, or as a steward caring for what's been entrusted? The posture changes the decision.

2. Am I deciding from identity, or for it?

Return to SS-002. Is this decision flowing out of a settled sense of who you are, or is it an attempt to prove or secure your worth through the outcome?

3. What does wise counsel say?

Scripture consistently commends seeking counsel rather than deciding in isolation. Have you actually asked someone wiser than you, or only consulted your own judgment?

4. What fruit is this likely to produce, over time?

Not just how this feels right now, but what it produces a year from now, five years from now. Short-term relief and long-term fruit are not always the same thing.

5. Can I act on this with a clear conscience before the Father?

Not "can I justify this," but genuinely: does this decision hold up in the light, without needing to be hidden or rationalized?

CHAPTER 4

WORKING THE FRAMEWORK

Apply the five questions to a real decision in front of you right now.

The decision I'm facing:

- 1. Whose is this, really? (Owner posture or steward posture?)
- 2. Am I deciding from identity, or for it?
- 3. Have I actually sought wise counsel, or only my own judgment?
- 4. What fruit is this likely to produce over time, not just today?
- 5. Can I act on this with a clear conscience before the Father?

What the framework revealed that I hadn't noticed on my own:

CHAPTER 5

A KINGDOM DECISION MEMO

Documenting a decision before acting on it is a discipline used throughout the KLF Knowledge System. Write this down. Return to it after the decision plays out, and compare what you expected to what actually happened — that comparison is where discernment actually grows.

The decision:

What the Framework's five questions revealed:

What I decided, and why:

What I expect the fruit of this decision to be:

KLF PRINCIPLES

WISDOM IS DISCERNMENT, NOT JUST KNOWLEDGE

- Wisdom is knowing what to do with what's true, not merely knowing what's true.
- Every significant decision benefits from returning to whose it is and who you are before deciding what to do.
- Wise counsel is not optional. Deciding in isolation is not the same as deciding wisely.
- Judge decisions by their fruit over time, not only by how they feel in the moment.
- Document decisions before acting on them. Discernment grows by comparing what you expected to what actually happened.

APPENDIX

GLOSSARY

Term	Definition
Wisdom	Discernment in applying what is true to a specific decision or circumstance.
Discernment	The ability to judge well between options, especially where the right choice isn't obvious.
Counsel	Input sought deliberately from others, particularly those wiser or more experienced in the relevant area.
Fruit	The actual, observable outcome of a decision over time, as distinct from how it felt to make.

This publication was produced by Kingdom Life Fitness for educational and spiritual formation purposes. It reflects the theological perspective and convictions of Kingdom Life Fitness and is not intended as a substitute for pastoral counsel, theological education, professional advice, or a local church community. Scripture references are paraphrased for clarity and readability rather than quoted from a specific translation. This framework is a tool for reflection, not a guarantee of outcome. The kingdom principle is stewardship — wisdom is discernment applied, not merely truth known.
